THE HAGUE CONFERENCE.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE DIFFER.

LONDON, June 11.

A divergence of views between Britain and France with regard to the Hague conference is revealed in the British reply to Mr. Poincare's memorandum. The reply strongly opposes any preliminary discussion and principle on the ground that it would create an opportunity for Bolshevist propaganda. It also opposes the French suggestion that the Russian memorandum of May 11 should be withdrawn before the conference because the memorandum is superseded by decisions of the plenary session. The French contention that foreign claimants are entitled to demand the return of private property is inacceptable because every state is entitled compulsorily to acquire private property on payment of just and real compensation. The French contention that a non Russian Commission must first agree to a complete plan for the restoration of Russia is also inacceptable because it presumes the right to dictate to Russia on athousand matters absolutely the subject of Russia's own control as a sovereign state.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST SOVIET.

SOCIAL REVOLUTIONARIES ON TRIAL.

FRANKFURT June 11.

The great trial of Russian social revolutionaries has opened at Moscow. Two thousand were present in court including most of the Soviet commissars, foreign representatives and the defending counsel, including Vandervelde. Rosenfeld and Liebknecht. The proceedings resolved themselves into a wrangle between representatives of the Social Revolutionaries and Communists. It is the first time in four years that there has been such a public discussion.

MOSCOW, June 11.

The trial of the social revolutionaries is for conspiracy against the Soviet.

"BRITAIN'S ANTI-ISLAMIC POLICY."

PROTEST BY INDIAN PUNDIT.

LUCKNOW, June 11.

A big Khilafat meeting presided over by the pundit Motilal Nehru, ex president of the congress, who was released from jail on June 6 protested against Mr. Chamberlain's recent statement in the House of Commons in regard to alleged Turkish atrocities as based "on Britain's anti-Islamic policy." He declared that the proposed enquiry would not satisfy India unless the commission included representatives of the Indian Khilafat committee and Moslem independent states. He also demanded publication of the international Commissions report in regard to "the Greek atrocities in Smyrna."

BULGARIA AND REPARATIONS.

SOFIA, June 1.

PROPOSED LOAN TO GERMANY.

WHAT THE BANKERS WANT FIRST.

PARIS, June 11.

The Bankers Committee lays down the following conditions respecting a loan to Germany: Germany must clearly show a desire to fulfil her obligations. The present uncertainty in regard to her reparations obligations must disappear and must be replaced by the essential certainty of the re-establishment of Germany's credit followed by an adjustment of Allied finances. The question of Inter-Allied debts should be discussed for the adjustment of reparations obligations because they are a factor in the general agreement of the Allies which is one of the essential conditions of a loan to Germany.

BLACK SEA BOMBARDMENT.

A SOCONY DEPOT FIRED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.

MR. COLLINS'S "VERY DEFINITE POLICY."

LONDON, June 11.

'SHACKS."

A vivid human impression of the late Sir Ernest Shackleton as he appeared at Rio de Janeiro shortly before his death is given in a private letter written by Captain A. D. P. Sharpus, of Wilson's of Rio, the firm which carried out the repairs to the "Quest."

Sir Ernest Shackleton left Rio on December 19, 1921, on his way to South Georgia and the Antarctic ice, and died suddenly the day he arrived at South Georgia, on January 5. The letter, which is addressed to Captain Sharpus's father in London, says:

"Yes, the death of Shackleton was an awful blow to me. That last letter to Rowett (Mr. J. Q. Rowett who was mainly responsible for financing the expedition) where he wrote saying that he couldn't write much, 'the temperature being 110 deg. in the shade,' he wrote in my bedroom, where I'm writing now. On the Saturday when they officially sailed from here, but anchored outside the harbour, so that he and I could finish up the accounts, telegrams, etc., for England, which we couldn't do in harbour owing to the number of people wishing to save good-bye and wish good luck, Wild (the second in command), Worsley, and some others went ashore to our mess for dinner to leave the small cabin free for us to get on with the work in.

"But the Boss was too ill to start, the launch came for me at 10 p.m. and was to have taken the others off to the ship. He asked me to take him ashore, anywhere, it didn't matter. The nearest place was our mess so I took him there.

"HE FELT AWFUL."

"Our house stands on the top of a small hill rising straight out of the sea; as I believe I've told you. There are about 50 odd steps to get up beside steep gradients. One of the sailors of the launch helped. But I shall never forget that journey up. It took three-quarters of an hour. Our sleeping quarters are separated from the living quarters and fortunately I managed to get him up without anyone seeing. He got into bed, and I thought to sleep, but he told me after he hardly slept at all.

"I went down to the others and managed to get Wild apart and told him. They went off to the ship I managed to give them a good hour's warning in the morning to enable them to have steam up and get under way as soon as the Boss got on board, as he couldn't stand the heat on board. You know what a ship lying at anchor in the tropics is like. The Boss was up before I was the next morning; he said he was better and had breakfast. But as soon as the sun got strong he felt rotten again. I could see he felt awful.

"At 10.30 a.m. I got windy and sent the launch (which I'd kept all night, off the mess) to the ship to fetch Mackin (the doctor of the 'Quest") who gave him some dope which did him good. Fortunately we had a change of weather by midday; it clouded over and a breeze got up, which cooled the air. By lunch time he was miles better—even joked about being a weakling. In the mess we all tried to get him to take a drink, telling him that it was a lowering climate and he needed alcoholic stimulant, especially rushing about as he'd been doing. He was a worker.

"But he refused everything; he was a very strict teetotaller. We left at 2.30, were on board by 3 p.m., and they were under way by 3.30. By that time the cool breeze had developed into half a gale, which Shacks appeared to love. Just before I left the ship he presented me (for the mess) with the White Ensign the "Quest" had flown on her voyage from England to Rio. It's torn and dirty but a very proud possession. We are having an air-tight (and very necessary in this country) insect proof case made for it. It's to hang in the mess room.

"THE QUEST SONG."

"Two other men from the mess had come off in the launch with us. Shacks asked us to steam a little way with them, which we did, until the sea became a bit too much for us. So we three (my two messmates and I) stood up and sang the 'Quest Song.' While we did so Shacks called Worsley, Wild, Carr, and a few others, who were near, and sang it back to us. Then we turned for shore. As we did so he sent Watts to dip the flag to us; we were flying the Brazilian flag on the stern of our launch, so we dipped in reply.

"The Boss went up on to the little observation bridge above the ship's navigation bridge, and the last I saw of him he was standing up there alone, holding on to the rail with one hand, waving his hat in the other and very faintly against the strong wind we heard the "Quest's" song.

"When I saw the "Quest" disappearing, and I realised how in one short month I had learnt to love Sir Ernest, a sort of lump came into my throat. The next morning on landing at the Caes Pharoux (the quay), where for a month I'd met Shacks every morning, to go off to the ship, which was on the slipway the other side of the bay, I felt I had lost a very dear pal. Which I had.

"EVERYTHING WRONG."

"Poor Sir Ernest, he had a hell of a time here; everything in the engine-room of that ship seemed to be wrong. He smiled to everyone and to a certain extent made light of what was the matter. But I knew he was worried almost to death. I dreaded his meeting Crashley, the ship's chief engineer, or Howard, our engineer, who was in charge of the repairs; for fear they'd tell him of some new trouble.

"I could see by his face it hurt him so. All his hopes and ambitions seemed centred in that little ship, and she seemed to let him down so much that I got to hate the damned boat. I was always glad when he came away from it. Often when we left, if we were alone, he'd sit in the launch gazing at nothing and hardly say a word on the half-hour run from the ship to the city."

LIQUOR LINER.

"RECREATION SHIP" FOR AMERICANS

The United States prohibition authorities are urging upon the State Department the negotiation of "liquor treaties" with Great Britain and Cuba with the object of stopping rum smuggling from Canada, the Bahamas, and Cuba.

They think that vessels guilty of unloading liquors into small boats outside the three-miles limit should be branded as pirates and made lawful prizes of the United States Navy.

The State Department does not take kindly to the idea, declaring that an international discussion of United States prohibitional discussion of United States prohibition might bring to light many difficult diplomatic problems.

Meanwhile the humorous capitalist Mr. J. V. Martin is defiantly advertising his scheme for establishing an "American recreation ship" three miles outside New York. He declares that the scheme is legal and he dares the prohibition authorities to interfere with it. As soon as the necessary money is guaranteed he proposes to place a contract in England for the construction of a magnificently equipped liner of the largest dimensions. The ship will have no sleeping berths, but will be divided into three very large restaurants where the best foods and wines of Europe will be served to excursionists from New York and adjoining cities.

Mr. Martin proposes to run excursions to the "recreation ship" for 12s. a head. Within the past 30 days, according to the New York Times, there have been 100 deaths due to the consumption of wood alcohol.

GERMAN REPARATIONS.

LONDON, June 10th.

The decision of the Bankers' Committee, following French opposition to consent to a reduction of the reparations, has created a disturbing situation.

The default of Germany is now regarded as probable, though the Government may continue monthly payments of 50,000,000 gold marks, pending the reassembly of the Bankers' Committee.

The latter's suggested terms for an external loan are stated to have included the halving of the indemnities, the lenders to have priority in respect of customs etc.; Germany to receive half the loan, and the indemnity to be suspended for three years.

The French price for an agreement on the foregoing lines, was the cancellation of France's war debts to America and Great Britain. Great Britain to abandon her share of the indemnity on the ground that she benefited by the destruction of Germany's power, and the acquisition of German colonies.

The French newspapers state that the Bankers' Committee finally considered, first, a large comprehensive loan, and finally, the settling of the reparations question, and second, a limited loan.

The first suggestion would necessitate the reduction of the indemnity and the cancellation of inter-allied debts. Consequently the adjournment for three months instead of sine die, is interpreted as giving either France or America the last chance in the direction of accommodation.

PARIS, June 10th.

The Report of the Committee of Bankers' to the Reparation Commission was delivered this afternoon.

It states that whereas Germany's chief creditor does not desire new limitations upon Germany's obligations, it is useless at present to continue the enquiry.

The Committee regrettably came to the conclusion that it could not advise the feasibility of an external loan to Germany, because it ought not to recommend a loan of which it could not confidently anticipate the successful issue on the respective markets.

PARIS, June 10th.

The Committee of Bankers' report, in the course of its conclusions, says the Committee is convinced that if the conditions for Germany's reconstruction are realised, large loans could be floated in the principal world markets. Financial conditions for this have never been more favourable since the war.

The Committee dwells on the immense help to an economic revival of the world it would be if Germany's debt to the allies was gradually convertible into one to private investors. It believes that the resumption of normal exchange, and the negotiations and stabilisation thereof, are impossible unless a reparations solution is found, and proceeds to urge the danger of the collapse of German credit if the situation is not relieved.

The conclusions are signed by all members with the exception of M. Sergent of France, who stated that he is unable to contemplate any diminution of France's rights under the Treaty of Versailles.

PARIS, June 10th.

The majority of newspapers are of the opinion that the report of the Bankers' Committee will only encourage Germany to resist the Treaty of Versailles. They express surprise that the report does not refer to the devastated regions.

The Echo de Paris report unjustifiably assumes that Germany is willing to pay if her obligations are reduced.

The newspapers state that as far as the report constitutes a political move against the rights of France, we are entitled to reject it. They declare that the French Government is endeavouring to bring into operation a complete system of reparations, and a system of financial control, stricter than the military control established in 1920.

If the allies will not follow her, France will act independently.

NEW ANGLO-PERSIAN OIL REFINERY.

LONDON, June 10th.

The President of the Board of Trade, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, will open the Anglo-Persian Company's new refinery at Llandarcy, near Swansea, on June 29th.

The refinery works, including the dock area and a model village, cover 650 acres, and cost £3,000,000.

It is estimated that the unloading of a 10,000 ton tanker, carring crude oil, will take twelve hours. The loading will be possible in twenty hours.

The tank storage provided is 290,000 gallons. The present output of the refinery exceeds 15,000,000 gallons a month and the refinery when fully operating, will be able to supply at least one third of Great Britain's consumption of petrol.

HOUSE RENTS.

The curious in such matters may have noticed the "intelligent anticipation" of the Governor's speech on the Rents Ordinance, in the note that appeared in this column on June 2. Such legislation must be distasteful to the orthodox economist, and His Excellency confessed that it is distasteful to him. The circumstances, however, are such as to require desperate remedy. No dog lover likes the Muzzling Order, but at times it has to be done. We have some landlords here who need muzzling, and if necessary—in effect the Governor has threatened—the dog shooters will be sent out. It is unfortunately true, and as unfortunately impossible for us to prove (unless the victims show more courage) that some landlords or landlord-companies have shown positive disrespect for the law. We learned from one tenant (unwilling or afraid to testify in the open) of a threat to fix things "when the Ordinance expires" We have a letter alleging that one company is even now disregarding the ordinance and charging more than standard rent for certain flats. His Excellency's grave warning to these lawbreakers would be comforting reading to many tenants, no doubt; but unless they make up their minds first to help themselves, by disclosing the facts to the authorities, the Government cannot help them effectively. At present, judging by our experience, they have been thoroughly "intimidated." We get letters from tenants who, after giving all the facts from their point of view, expect us to attack the guilty parties. But as they usually say "keep my name out of it, or they will ultimately make me suffer for it", we are tied. We cannot go into court to defend a libel case and say "we have a good witness but his name mustn't be disclosed." To anyone knowing Hongkong well, and especially the attitude of the public towards the newspapers, the virtuous indignation in strike time over Chinese "intimidation" had its amusing side, for this must be one of the most "intimidated" communities in the world, as regards ventilating its grievances openly. If but half the statements made to the China Mail had gone direct to the Governor, or if the complainants had agreed to back us up as far as the Courts, things would have been very different. A newspaper can afford to act as champion, and is glad to; but it cannot be used as a scapegoat, and survive. Scapegoating is an unhealthy profession.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Criminal Sessions open on Monday next at the Supreme Court.

Capt. E. C. Cross, 2nd King's Regiment, has been granted leave from June 15 to June 30, for the purpose of proceeding to Shanghai.

A concubine living at No. 11, Tung Street, absconded on Saturday, taking with her $600 worth of jewellery, the property of her master, a merchant.

At Hankow, recently Mgr. Ricci, new Bishop of Laohokow, was consecrated in St. Joseph's Cathedral. Bishop Mondaini, of Changsha, acted as Consecrator.

Mrs. R. A. Whitamore of Tientsin has been successfully operated upon for appendicitis. Mr. P. H. B. Kent has also undergone an operation of a similar character.

S.A.S. Saiyed Qamar Ali, I.M.D., is placed in sub-medical charge of the Hongkong Mule Corps detachment from June 9, until further orders, in addition to his regimental duties.

Major (L.M.O.) F. H. Phillips, B.A.O.C., having arrived by the s.s. "Kashmir" on June 3, is taken on the strength of the China Command. Major Phillips was accompanied by Mrs. Phillips.

While at work on a cutting in Morrison Hill on Saturday, an earth coolie overbalanced and fell a distance of some 10 feet, receiving injuries to the legs necessitating his removal to the hospital.

The master of the s.s. "Jacox" report that during the voyage from Penang via Saigon to Hongkong he passed a steamer apparently aground off Robert Island. He offered assistance but received no reply.

Commander S. Hall, R.N.R., of the "Loongmow" was presented with the Royal Reserve Decoration medal with green ribbon, by Rear-Admiral MacLachlan while the British war ship "Bee" was at Ichang on May 31.

On the day following his arrival in Tientsin, Major-General Sir John Fowler, who was recently in Shanghai inspected the Tientsin Garrison. He was subsequently entertained to dinner by members of the United Services Club.

Although he has recovered from illness, Mr. Frank W. Lee, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, and concurrently Superintendent of Customs at Canton, is still confined at home on account of weakness, and will not resume office for a few days more.

Hongkong (crows a Shanghai paper) was able to muster only eight men for a practice parade before the parade in honour of the King of England's birthday, showing that there is considerable more interest in the Volunteers in Shanghai than Hongkong.

Mrs. Henry S. Houghton, wife of the Director of Peking Union Medical College, sailed with her children on the "President Grant" for the United States from Shanghai. Mrs. Houghton will spend the summer at her former home in Columbus, Ohio, returning to Peking in the autumn.

Command Orders states that the Royal Engineers will make a test of the water consumption in Wellington Barracks East and West, and R. A. S. C. Pier on Monday, June 12, between the hours of 10 a.m., and 1 p.m. Owing to the prolonged drought the test of fire hydrants at Kowloon ordered on June 6, was cancelled.

At the Ohel Rachel Synagogue, at Shanghai before a large number of friends, the marriage of Miss Moselle Shibbeth to Mr. Solomon Gatton was solemnized by Rabbi Hirsch, assisted by Mr. S. Somekh. The synagogue was profusely decorated with bamboo foliage, choice flowers and potted plants most effectively massed.

H.E. the Governor of Macao, Senhor H. M. Correa da Silva, accompanied by Madame Correa da Silva, and their four children sailed for Home by the Messageries Maritimes s.s. "Angers," yesterday afternoon. They had been the guests of our Governor, Sir Reginald Edward Stubbs, K.C.M.G., since last Thursday.

On their way to Chefoo a flotilla of American destroyers arrived in Shanghai last week. According to the resident Naval Officers, there have never before been so many ships of this type in the Huangpu at once. The flotilla is expected to remain in Shanghai for a fortnight and during that time nine of the destroyers will go into dry dock for cleaning and repairs.

COMEDY AT THE CORONET.

When a man goes to the pictures he goes there to relax and discerning cinema managements discovered long ago that the average picture-goer is more attracted by good comedy than by heavy drama. A judicious mixture of the two is not infrequently successful but the popularity of the "straight" comedy remains undisputed. That is probably the reason why the present programme at the Coronet is drawing such capital houses. It includes two joyous comedies, the chief of which is Mack Sennett's "Home Talent" wherein the famous Mack Sennett bathing beauties disport themselves as Homan slaves. The Mack Sennett film is ably backed up by Larry Semon in one of his most humorous efforts "The Head Waiter."

SPECIAL DANCE AT KOWLOON.

Encouraged by the remarkable success of last week's fixture the management of the Kowloon Theatre are arranging several special features for the dance which is to take place to-morrow evening. Several of the dance numbers to-morrow night are to be vocalized by Lena and Tedo, the popular local couple, and a new Fox Trot composed by Professor Aninao of the Coronet orchestra is to be tried out. Mrs. Harry Woods has consented to give another rendition of her ever popular "Pearl of the Pacific Waltz."

DISARMAMENT.

ARMED MEN ARRESTED.

Before Magistrate Lindsell this morning, Inspector Blackman charged a Chinese with the unlawful possession of a dagger in a Wanchai tea house at 10 p.m., yesterday.

Defendant said that he used the knife to cut wire in connection with his work as a cable layer.

Mr. Johnson of the Wireless Station at Stonecutters said the defendant was one of his labour coolies. He would have occasion in the course of his work to use a knife, but not one of that description, which had the appearance of an ordinary knife ground to a sharp point and sharpened at the back like a dagger.

Sentence of six months' hard labour was passed.

"JUST LOOKING AFTER IT."

Inspector Willis charged a Chinese before Magistrate Lindsell with the unlawful possession of a fully loaded revolver in Yaumati.

Mr. T. H. King, D. S. P. (Kowloon) appeared for the prosecutio and asked the Magistrate to deal with the defendant summarily as he did not have sufficient ground to have him committed. Defendant and another man were arrested in an eating house, as the result of information received and when searched both were armed.

Defendant said that the revolver was the property of another man who had asked him to look after it while they were having tea.

Magistrate: Why could he not look after it himself?—I don't know.

You ran the risk. Twelve months.

The other man was then charged with unlawful possession of a dagger at the same place.

He said it belonged to the first man who had asked him to take it to a matshed where he would meet him.

The Magistrate passed sentence of 9 months' hard labour.

YAUMATI GAMBLERS.

D.S.P. KING'S SUSPICIONS.

When a gambling case was called before Magistrate Lindsell this morning, Mr. T. H. King, D.S.P., (Kowloon) said he was watching the case in the interest of the Police Department.

The Magistrate enquired in what way Mr. King was interested in the case.

Mr. King said that he was watching owing to a suspicion that the police were not doing their work.

After the defendants had been arranged in front of the bench, Mr. King explained that what he meant was that gambling was rife in Yaumati, and the suspicion was that the Chinese police were not doing their work as they ought to.

According to the prosecution, Sergt. Dorling raided the Hup Sek godown last night and arrested two women and 16 men for gambling fantan.

The women and three of the men failed to answer their names this morning.

Inspector Willis said that one of the women was given police bail in the sum of $250 because she was charged with being the keeper of the gambling den, and had a previous conviction only a week ago. The other defendants were allowed bail of $5 each.

The Magistrate estreated the absent defendants' bail, and issued a warrant for the woman's arrest.

The other defendants all admitted gambling.

Mr. King said that it was a big gambling school. Over 100 gamblers got away, and $54.70, stake money was seized.

Inspector Shannon said that beside that money, $27 was found in a matting bag which he took to represent commission money; and on a tin tray was $7 odd "bankers' money."

Defendants were fined $3 each, and the $54.70 stake money was confiscated.

ROBBED IN CEMETERY.

PLAUSIBLE TRIO.

A contractor's foreman was walking in Shatin Road on Saturday afternoon when he was accosted by three men one of whom got into conversation with him by asking the foreman if he was Lee Sun. When the latter replied that he was, the stranger said that he wished to consult him about the building of a wall around some property in the neighbourhood. The foreman's business instincts aroused, it was an easy matter to lure him to a matshed, in a nearby cemetery where the strangers relieved him of $17 in cash and then all escaped up the hillside.

BASEBALL.

HONGKONG BEAT JAPANESE.

On Saturday Hongkong beat the Japanese Young Men's Association by 12 runs to 4. The game was watched by a large and enthusiastic crowd: a very encouraging sign.

The Japanese team played a steady game except in the first innings, when a total of five runs was registered before their pitcher steadied down. At times both teams played erratic baseball, but generally speaking the game was full of thrills from the spectators' standpoint. The outstanding feature of the game was the pitching of Brown who held the Japanese scoreless for six innings. Curtis who relieved him also pitched well but his support failed him at critical moments with the result that the Japanese scored four runs in the three innings he pitched. For the Japanese team Ishida, the short stop, played well, together with Noguchi, the pitcher.

The Hongkong team played better than it has ever done this year. A few more games and they will be in condition to meet and beat the U.S. destroyer teams and the University of California team in the games to be played later in the season.

CHINA'S PRESIDENT.

RETURN OF LIYUANHUNG.

PEKING REJOICES.

PEKING, June 12.

The announcement yesterday evening that Li Yuan-hung was coming to Peking to-day was received scептically in official circles at first but when confirmed it occasioned surprise and real gratification. His arrival in Peking this morning was marked by an enthusiastic reception.

Many thousands turned out to welcome Li Yuan-hung while at the railway station all the members of cabinet and vice-ministers and numerous former officials and commandants of the Peking Garrison, the Peking Gendarmerie, metropolitan police, leading military and naval officers and many other distinguished persons awaited him. A Presidential guard was drawn up at the station and the streets from Chiemen and Tungchang to Hutung were lined with troops, gendarmerie and police. Chow Tze-chi who went to Tientsin yesterday evening returned with Li Yuen-hung who was also accompanied by Chi Yao-shan and Wangchangyuan. Following the welcome at the station Liyuanhung went to the residence and thence to the palace where he held a conference with thirty members of the cabinet and other officials.

Tsao-Kun and Wu Pei-fu are expected in Peking this evening or to-morrow.

Mandates will be issued shortly announcing Li Yuan-hung's resumption of the Presidency and summoning various leaders to Peking.—Reuter.

CHINA'S FINANCES.

MINISTER'S NEW POLICY.

PEKING, June 10.

Tung Kang, the Finance Minister, interviewed by Reuter's representative said he hoped and expected to obtain from the provinces the revenues rightly belonging to the Central Government and to consolidate the fund of all foreign loans using therefor portion of the forthcoming customs increases due, firstly creating an effective five per cent, secondly an additional two and a half per cent, and ultimately reaching twelve and a half per centum. In connection with this likin would be abolished in accordance with the Washington resolutions. The last five per cent yield was approximately fifty million taels whereas the Government was receiving forty million from likin although the actual likin collections amounted to two hundred millions. Thus the Government would benefit to the extent of ten millions and the People would be saving 150,000,000 at present absorbed by provincial officials and collectors.—Reuter.

CHINA'S PREMIER.

W. W. YEN APPOINTED.

Mr. N. W. Hickling of Shanghai had a nasty accident when playing polo. He was turning to strike the ball when the pony fell, throwing Mr. Hickling on his face and rolling over him. Dr. Billinghurst was fortunately present, an ambulance was got and Mr. Hickling taken to his house, suffering from concussion. From inquiries made it appears that Mr. Hickling was not seriously injured.

MOVEMENTS OF STEAMERS.

The C.P.S. R.M.S. "Empress of Canada" arrived at Shanghai on June 9 (at 11.20 p.m.) left Shanghai on June 10 (at 8 p.m.) and is due at Yokohama on June 13 (Tuesday morning).

SEVEN STOWAWAYS.

MIGRANTS FROM MANILA.

Seven Americans, James Milton, Devol Ralph, Harvey Howard Smith, Edward Morris, Gus Robert Veteto, William Morressey, Edward Sharman, were charged before Magistrate Lindsell this morning with having stowed away from Manila on board the s.s. "President Lincoln" (ex "Hoosier State") which arrived in port at 9 a.m., to-day.

All the defendants pleaded guilty.

Milton who took upon himself the duties of spokesman, told the Magistrate that they were all seamen. They had been stranded at Manila and could not get work there. They had stowed away in order to get back to the United States. He was left behind in Manila by the s.s. "Diana Dollar."

Inspector Grant said that the police would have to make arrangements to send the defendants back to Manila. This kind of thing was becoming very common lately, he added.

Magistrate (to defendants): The result of this is that you find yourselves in a place which is not even American territory. Is there no organisation in Manila for sending distressed seamen home?

Milton: No sir.

Magistrate: You have defrauded the company out of passages, and you must go to prison. Fourteen days each.

ACADEMY OF BEAUTY.

PROPOSED STAFF OF LOVELY WOMEN.

Preminence is given at New York to the ambitious plans for an International Academy of Beauty, which it is stated will devote the same skill and research to the preservation of loveliness as the Rockefeller Institute devotes to medicine.

The directors and staff of the academy are stated to have been selected for the perfection of their hands, feet, or skin, and include Mme. Ratinova, reputed to possess the most perfect skin in the world; Mlle. Renouard, considered to have the most perfectly formed foot; Miss Grenze, of Chicago, whose hands are judged the most beautiful in the United States; and Miss Ivy Close, who was recently declared the perfect type of English beauty.

Invitations to co-operate have been sent, it is stated, to Mlle. Spinelly, the French actress; Lady Lavery, and Mme. Sarah Bernhardt.

The new institute, it is declared, will seek the beauty secrets of all countries and circulate them for the general good. Methods of reshaping an ugly nose or a misshapen ear will be taught and the same attention will be paid to the surgical side of beauty culture as is now devoted to the medical.

A SEPOY'S "WAD."

CHARGE OF SNATCHING.

Before Magistrate Hamilton this morning, a Sepoy of the K. E. O. Grenadiers, charged a Chinese with having picked his pocket in town yesterday afternoon and stolen $85 in notes.

The Sepoy said that he was walking in the vicinity of the Central Market when the defendant came up behind him and snatched the money from his breast pocket. The witness turned round just in time to see the defendant put the money under his armpit. Defendant ran and the witness gave chase. He was intercepted by a watchman employed by a Chinese bank in the vicinity.

The watchman said that he searched the defendant and found the notes under his arm.

Mr. R. E. A. Webster, for the defence: I put it to you that you asked for $1 to get him out of it?—No, I did not. Any person who has $85 in his possession can easily produce $1.

Defendant said that he was a Hunghom fruit seller. He had come to town to buy some laichees. He was in a shop when the Indians walked in and accused him of snatching. They "planted" the money on him.

The Magistrate remanded the case in order that witnesses from the shop might be called. Bail was allowed in the sum of $300.

MACAU AFFAIR.

CANTON LABOUR UNITES

The labourers of the city have (according to to-day's Canton Times) recently formed a Society to deal with the Macao Affair. The inauguration of the society was held yesterday afternoon at the Educational Association Building. More than one hundred labour guilds were present at the meeting. Mr. Mok Yu-tah of the Sincere Company presided and gave a speech on the recent Macao Incident. The speaker declared that since Chinese were so mercilessly slaughtered in Macao, all citizens of the country must fight for satisfactory settlement of the case, "Simply wiring telegrams, petitioning government authorities," Mr. Mok said, can not help the situation. The people must unite in a solid union to deal with the affair practically." Speeches on measures to deal with the matter were given by other labour and social leaders. The Society will hold another meeting this Saturday.

LI YUAN-HUNG ARRIVES IN PEKING.

PEKING, June 11th.

ATTACK ON CHINESE CONSORTIUN.

LONDON, June 10th.

A direct attack on the Chinese Consortium was made at a meeting of the British Bank for Foreign Trade in London. Mr. C. B. Crisp, the Chairman, declaring that the consortium's stranglehold over the Chinese Government was responsible for the present default on the Marconi and Vickers loans, and also precludes the British manufacturer from favourably competing with foreign manufacturers. He accused the consortium dictatorship of blocking the Chinese Government's way to further finance, and criticised the consortium's disapproval of the Chinese offer to give security for loans on the Salt Gabelle.

CHINESE EMIGRATION TO BRITISH COLUMBIA.

OTTAWA, June 10th.

Dr. Sze, the Chinese Minister to the United States, who has been discussing the acute problem of Oriental immigration to British Columbia, was entertained at dinner at the House of Commons. The guests included the Premier, members of the Cabinet, diplomats, and members of Parliament.

Dr. Sze paid a tribute to the attitude upheld by Sir Robert Borden at the Washington Conference, which he described as broad-minded and most helpful.

He declared that Chinese leaders did not desire to encourage the immigration of labourers, as with the expansion of railways, consequent on the development of mining and manufacturing, full employment would be provided at home. In the meanwhile he valued the friendship and goodwill of his friends abroad too highly to risk losing it by permitting a few thousand labourers to immigrate from China, if discord was to result.

Dr. Sze subsequently lunched with Sir Robert Borden, and was entertained at dinner by the Governor-General at Government House.

FRENCH INTERESTS IN THE FAR EAST.

PARIS, June 10th.

M. Outrey, the deputy for Cochine-China, has announced his intention of interpellating the Government as regards the delay, firstly, in submitting the ratification to parliament in conformity with the vote of the two chambers, the agreements and conventions necessary to safeguard the material and moral interests of France in the Far East which have been gravely compromised by the cessation of the operations of the Banque Industrielle de Chine; secondly, introducing in the chamber a bill for submitting to parliament a new convention with the Banque L'Indo-Chine which have been introduced since January, 1920.

The Senate has appointed a Commission charged to examine the demand for the authorisation of proceedings against Senator Perchot as regards the Banque Industrielle.

THE BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

PARIS, June 10th.

In connection with the proposed reconstitution of the Banque Industrielle, it is suggested that the capital be 10,000,000 francs, of which one quarter will be at first subscribed. The principal credit banks completely support the creation of this capital.

Wealthy Newspaper Seller.

Missed from his post in the rue Lepic, which he had occupied for many years, Louis Sensat, aged 74, a Paris newspaper seller, was found dead in his lodgings by the police (says the Central News), who found concealed in the straw mattress on which the old man had slept 10,000 francs in bank notes, some sixty deeds and bonds, and 384 francs in coin. Sensat was in receipt of a monthly dole of 50 francs from the public funds.

Our Golden Penny.

Sir Robert Horne's forecast of a return of the sovereign may recall that the first regular gold piece struck in England was—a penny! This became part of the currency in 1257, and weighed about 45 grains, being the equivalent of 20 of the contemporary silver pennies. Its prototype was the bezant, a gold piece belonging to Byzantium which had been current for centuries, but the English penny was a far better executed coin than its original. It appeared but once in our coinage, and only two or three examples have survived.

Jazz Dance Condemned

The Washington Board of Public Morals publishes the report of Dr. McKeever denouncing the jazz dance as the worst enemy of youth, physically, intellectually, and spiritually. Jazz music, according to Dr. McKeever, produces a mental intoxication that is often a peculiar admixture of hysteria and sexual excitement. "It is frequently to be observed," he states, "that the eyes of an emotionally excited dancing girl seem to rotate, while she has a tendency to hang voluptuously about her partner's neck and shoulders between the numbers." Unless jazz dancing, neurotic cinema plays, and cigarettes are prohibited to boys and girls, Dr. McKeever feels certain that the future of the race is endangered.

Stinnes' Fortune.

A writer in a German newspaper has been estimating the fortune of that mystery magnate Herr Hugo Stinnes. Before the war, we are told, his private wealth amounted to M 35,000,000—gold marks, of course. His fortune to-day is rather more difficult to estimate, because it is scattered over so many companies and in numerous countries. But financial circles, which follow his feverish activity with very considerable interest and attention say that he is now worth M. 140 000,000—gold. He has therefore quadrupled his wealth during the war and since. In paper, that fortune equals the dizzy figure of M. 7,000,000,000, so that Hugo Stinnes is a millionaire in paper marks 7,000 times over. Asked recently why he worked night and day piling up millions, he replied: "It is for my children." He has two sons and a daughter.

Feeding On Dead Microbes.

The French Academy of Sciences has been notified of a remarkable discovery relating to inoculation. The originators of the new method, MM Micolle and Conseil, instead of submitting patients to the irritating effects of inoculation, give them meals of dead microbes. This, they explain, is quite a pleasant way of securing immunity from certain diseases, and has none of the ill-effects which often accompany subcutaneous inoculation. The method was tested on three men, who volunteered for the experiment. After fasting for eighteen hours, the volunteers ate five or six milliards of dead microbes of Malta fever. During the next two days, after shorter periods of fasting, the dose was repeated. They were then inoculated with 500 000,000 of virulent microbes to test the effect of the protective doses. In two cases there was no ill-effect and the third case developed fever so mildly that he was quickly cured by subcutaneous injection. Similar tests were carried out successfully with dysentery microbes. Dr. Roux, who explained the cases before the Academy, said that the new method might be applied to many other diseases. The experiments are being continued.

THE GYROSCOPE AT WORK.

COMPASSES AND STABILISERS.

At a meeting of the Glasgow University Students' Naval Architectural Society (Mr. A. J. Campbell, the president in the chair) Mr. P. R. Jackson, of the Sperry Gyroscope Company, London, read a paper on "The Gyroscope at Work."

He described the practical application of the gyroscope to problems connected with the operation of ships, and said that probably the two most important practical applications of the gyroscope at present were the gyroscope compass and the gyroscope ship stabiliser.

Having described the now familiar principles of the gyroscope generally, Mr. Jackson described the gyroscopic compass in particular, and showed how the principles are utilised for the purpose of this instrument. It was evident, he said from the description which he had given that we had now obtained a real compass, a machine which would definitely seek the meridian, and in a reasonable time would damp out its oscillations and repair its position in the meridianal plane.

The gyro compass indicated true geographical north, so that the courses steered were the chart courses, without correction for variation or deviation. The compass had a much greater directive force than the magnetic compass, there was no lag or oscillation of the compass card, the instrument was unaffected by changes in the hull or cargo, identical indications of the ship's heading could be shown at any part of the ship at the same instant, and a graphical record obtained of all changes in the heading while for naval ships there were the further advantages that the compass was not affected by gun fire, and could be used to operate plotting instruments and other mechanism required for director fire control.

With respect to ship stabilisers, Mr. Jackson said many naval architects and seamen regarded these with a considerable amount of incredulity, because they did not understand the exact conditions which obtained when a vessel was rolling under the action of waves. He showed afterwards how the stabiliser acts and said that up to date, 11 vessels, aggregating 15,000 tons displacement, had been equipped with the apparatus, while installations were under construction for seven vessels of 33,000 tons, including one for an 18,000 ton liner and one for a cruiser of 10,000 tons displacement.

CUNARD MANAGER ON THE POSITION.

Mr. A D. Mearns, general manager of the Cunard line, delivered a notable speech at Liverpool recently. They had all, he said, had painful experience of unparalleled depression. Without any additional burden, trade following the world upheaval would have been difficult, but the screw had been given further twists by our legislators in the form of income and other taxes, which had soared to heights that made them long for what they now had some reason to believe were the "good old days." They were not even treated as any other commercial body—rather were they picked out for special laceration,—in fact, the Government's attitude towards shipping had been one of systematic and unparalleled meanness.

In the time of crisis, when the cry was for ships and more ships, private enterprise provided the ships, involving the loss of a large portion of their finest tonnage, and in some cases of entire fleets, which could not possibly at present be replaced except at costs which made economical working impossible, but which must eventually be replaced if they were to hold their position among the maritime nations of the world.

THE COST OF SHIPS.

It was reported (Mr. Mearns continued) that at the end of the past year there were over 50,000,000 tons of shipping looking for employment. The figure was so vast that it was difficult to comprehend. A large amount of that tonnage was tied up in the ports of the world, but notwithstanding this, he saw from Lloyd's latest return that, on December 31, there were over 1 000 vessels under construction with a gross tonnage of nearly 4,500,000. All that tonnage must be absorbed, before they could look for profitable trade, but it was clear that for a long time there would be a floating element of tonnage with would have a detrimental effect upon the profitable operation of the remainder.

The question resolved itself into one of costs, and the ship which could be operated most economically and provide an efficient service was the one that would get the business. It was a simple but important proposition. With the price of new construction three and four times above the pre-war price, it was obvious that new tonnage was under an immediate disability with its competitors. Building, even under very much more favourable conditions than existed to-day would involve very considerable risk.

Not only had they to meet the competition of foreign private enterprise, but the United States, Canadian and Australian Governments had come into the markets as traders, with their taxpayers' pockets to dip into as and when required. They did not want a Government subsidy—their experience of Governmental participation in commercial matters was too vivid in their memories,—and if only all, no matter how humble or exalted they might be, would appreciate how closely the essentials of their welfare were bound up in their own individual effort he had no doubt of the ultimate issue.

RUSSIAN SHIP'S PLIGHT.

REMARKABLE STORY.

A curious history attaches to a Russian ship which has been lying at Antwerp for the last six months. The steamer is the "Nijni Novgorod," belonging to the Russian Volunteer Fleet Association, which was established in Russia some years before the war. From the commencement of hostilities the vessels of this organisation rendered valuable services to Russia. When the revolution took place the "Nijni Novgorod," fortunately, was at sea, and the Soviet authorities were unable to interfere with her. Certain of the administrators who were in Paris decided not to allow the ship to return to Russia, and she was therefore employed in carrying food from the United States to England.

Following the Armistice the steamer made many voyages, her tag being seen at Vladivostok, Rouen, Copenhagen, and Rotterdam, but as the Government of Russia was in the hands of the Soviet and the administrators in Paris were no longer able to justify their authority. America, as well as Great Britain, refused to pay the accumulated freight charges, which amounted to $1 000 000 and slightly more than £100,0 0 respectively. The result has been that for six months the vessel has been laid up, and the crew have waited in vain for payment of their wages. Provisions have been obtained on credit but the ship's chandler has now stopped all supplies, and the sailors, being without food and in danger of starvation, have had to apply to the Bureau de Charité. This incident has aroused much feeling in the port of Antwerp.

PROPOSED JAPANESE COMBINE.

The Asahi says that it is worth while to notice, as a first stage towards the amalgamation of the N.Y.K., O.S.K. T.K.K. Kokusai Kisen Kaisha and Kawasaki Kisen Kaisha, that the N.Y.K. has decided on a detachment of the coastwise service from the ocean service. The Shanghai line is thought of most seriously by the N.Y.K., and next come the coastwise lines. As ocean services are indefinite in business results and are now acutely depressed, the N.Y.K. is said to have decided to concentrate its energies upon the coastwise and near sea lines, and offering only the ocean services for amalgamation. Previously, when the combination of the five companies was advocated, hindrances were found, and now the companies find themselves all in low water, with no signs of the proposal being realised readily. Setting aside the N.Y.K. and the O.S.K., it is a burning question to relieve the other three companies, who are engaging in ocean trade, no alternative being left open but either to have the Government subsidise them, or to get the other companies to absorb them. As a matter of fact, however little can be expected in the way of Government subsidies. Moreover, the N.Y.K. has so far declared itself opposed to the proposal, whilst the O.S.K. has held its tongue. Now that the opportunity is arising for the N.Y.K. ocean service to combine with the Y.Y.K., Kokusai and Kawasaki, the Asahi thinks that the O.S.K. will be unable to ignore it.

The provincial authorities of Fukien propose to open up a port on the Min River opposite Foochow. Ling Pin-chang has been appointed the Director of the Port Administration.

Mr. Burton Holmes, the well-known traveller and author, has arrived in Shanghai from Japan by the R. M. S. "Empress of Russia," in search of new material. After remaining there for a few days, he will leave for a trip up the Yangtze.

"AFTER THE WAR."

COLONEL REPINGTON'S NEW BOOK.

Lieut.-Colonel C. à Court Repington, in his new volume, "After the War" (Constable, 21s. net) prints in diary form the record of his wanderings and interviews during last year in Europe and the United States. If his present work is not of such importance as his diary during the war years, it does give a valuable account of people and events in the new world which the war has created.

Some of the most interesting pages are those in which, during a visit to Germany, he examines the German position and gives details of the secret German armaments:

Had not France maintained compulsory service and her present large Army, we should have found Germany by now rearmed and unready to carry out the treaty. France is alarmed for her future because of the large population of Germany, her almost intact industries and country and her obvious revenge at the first opportunity. France is in this fearful predicament, that if she leaves Germany all her resources to enable her to pay France, she may be paid, but Germany, the payments ended will have all these resources to enable her to renew the war. If France takes hold of these resources, Germany cannot pay France, and France will be financially broken.

He says that according to the most trustworthy evidence, Germany last spring was secretly making submarine parts; and that she was building all-metal aeroplanes, "slower but much safer than our planes at the end of the war," nominally for commercial purposes.

As to the German attitude, he mentions a conversation with Princess Blucher:

She says that it is quite hopeless to make the Germans understand that they began the war. They are firmly convinced to the contrary. It is not their fault. They honestly believe themselves to be right. It is the result of persistent propaganda. Only a few, of the highest administrators admit the truth.

Everyone in Germany expects that a monarchy will be restored:

It will be either the Crown Prince's son or Rupprecht of Bavaria who will be elected. Rupprecht could come back now as King of Bavaria, but says that he does not wish to break up Germany.

WIRELESS "TAPPED."

A curious story which he heard may explain the defeats of Russia in the war:

The Italian Ambassador at Petrograd being unable to advise his own Government by the telegraph was given the use of the Russian wireless every day, and sent detailed reports of everything that was happening, including strengths and dispositions of Allied troops. He sent them in cipher. But when Italy entered the war she had published a Red Book to defend her action. Owing to inexcusable oversight the telegrams published were not paraphrased, but were word for word as sent.

This gave the Austrians the key and thus they were able to read every message sent on the Russian wireless and to make dispositions accordingly.

Colonel Repington attributes Greek policy against Turkey to the direct action of the British Government. Of King Boris of Bulgaria he gives an attractive if rather patronising account:

The King talked with good sense and displayed a greater character and competence than I had expected of him. He is no drawing room King, and while he has charm, good manners, and a deprecating modesty, I should say that he is working with sustained assiduity to master the role of sovereignty.

Vienna he found haunted by tragic memories, and the famous palace of the Hapsburg gloomier than ever:

Motored out to Schonbrun. I suppose the only palace extant with 1.441 rooms and 139 kitchens. Quite hideous, huge, gaunt and bare, painted a horrible yellow colour and with no view.

At the Washington Conference, he remarks that:

Mr. Secretary Hughes sank in 35 minutes more ships than all the admirals of the world have destroyed in a cycle of centuries. Yet I cannot see any danger in it if all States follow suit, especially as I believe that the mastodons can never cross an ocean to attack people the other side of it. We have found the Americans to be absolutely sincere and entirely devoid of any intention of stealing a march upon us. We hope that they trust us. We are sure that we trust them.

Mr. E. W. Hamilton has officiated as second police magistrate since yesterday morning, in the place of Mr. J. A. Fraser who had taken over duties as District Officer North.

WASTED WATER.

At the Magistracy on Saturday three Chinese were charged with having wasted water in the Kowloon district, by interfering with fire hydrants and street fountains. The cases have a more serious aspect than ordinarily in view of the present shortage of water on the mainland, and in one case a fine of $10 was imposed.

Magistrate Hamilton had before him a Chinese from Hunghom charged with having removed the top of a street fountain. The defendant said that the top was already loose when he arrived at the fountain to draw water.

The case was adjourned for further investigation.

Another Chinese was charged before the same Magistrate with having tampered with a fire hydrant in Portland Street. He was seen by L/S Bland on his hands and knees letting water out of the hydrant at midnight. The water was running down the street in a stream.

A fine of $10 was imposed.

Before Magistrate Lindsell, a Chinese man and a woman were charged with having interfered with a fire hydrant at Samshuipo. They said that they had to get some water or they would die of thirst.

A Chinese constable said he saw a crowd collected round the hydrant. The iron cover had been removed and people were drawing water from the pipe. The defendants carried poles with which it would have been easy to press down the bell and let the water out.

A nominal fine of $2 was imposed.

DISTRESS AFTER MEALS.

Some people, however careful in their diet, suffer after each meal because the stomach is weak and the food lies undigested.

Tone up the stomach and this trouble quickly disappears as is shown by the experience of Mrs Nettie Ainsworth of No 81 Elm street, Montpelier, Vt. This American lady says:

"I became run down through overwork and suffered a complete nervous breakdown. My stomach distressed me after meals and I was in misery from flatulency and gas. I tossed about, sleepless, at night and was steadily losing strength and weight.

"A friend who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills following an attack of pneumonia recommended the treatment to me and I decided to give the remedy a trial. I took seven bottles in all and was completely restored to health. My nervousness disappeared and I now sleep well and eat without distress. I can't speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for I owe my present health to them."

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Also obtainable post free at $1.50 per bottle, $8/- for six bottles direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

"Q" SHIP STORIES.

Mr. E. Keble Chatterton's "Q Ships and Their Story" (Sidgwick and Jackson; 12s. 6d. net.) tells in graphic style and with the aid of a number of interesting photographs the thrilling story of the "mystery ships," and the part they played in the war.

These disguised vessels which were, as a rule, either old tramps or small sailing-ships, began to be generally used in 1915 and it was on July 24 of that year that one of them, the "Prince Charles," of only 373 tons, scored the first success for a Q boat.

It had just gone 7 o'clock and the submarine was 3 miles off. The collier had hoisted her colours and the enemy was about five points on the bow when a German shell came whizzing across. This fell about 1,000 yards short. Lieutenant Wardlaw now stopped his engines, put his ship head on to the Atlantic swell, blew three blasts, and then ordered the crew to get the boats out, in order to simulate the movements of an ordinary merchant ship in the presence of an attacking submarine.

"In the meantime the enemy was approaching rapidly and fired a second shot, which fell between the funnel and the foremast, but landed 50 yards over when the range was down to 600 yards the enemy turned her broadside on to the collier and continued firing.

"Lieutenant Wardlaw, seeing that the enemy could not be enticed to come any nearer . . . opened fire with his port gun. The effect of this on the German was remarkable and instantaneous; for her gun's crew at once deserted the gun and darted down into the conning-tower. But while they were doing so, one of "Prince Charles's" shells struck the submarine so abaft the conning-tower. . . . Still the British fire continued, and when the submarine's bows were a long way out of the water, she took a sudden plunge and disappeared. A large number of men were seen swimming about, and the "Prince Charles" at once made every effort to pick them up, officers and men being thus saved, out of 33."

THE PRINCE OF WALES AT CAIRO

CAIRO, June 9th.

H.R.H. The Prince of Wales and King Faud exchanged visits this morning, in pleasant weather. The Prince of Wales was seated in an open motor-car beside Field-Marshal Sir E. Allenby, who wore the uniform of the Welsh Guards. Field-Marshal Allenby was dressed in a grey frock coat.

The Prince smilingly acknowledged the hearty cheers of groups of British subjects assembled along the route, which was lined by moderate sized crowds. Among the crowd were a few Egyptians, whom the police mostly searched as the Prince's motor car appeared in the distance.

The King, ten minutes later, returned the visit in a closed car.

CAIRO, June 10th.

A large and fashionable gathering assembled at the Gezira Sporting Club this afternoon to witness a polo match, between Seifullah Pasha Yusry's team and the Ninth Lancers.

The Prince of Wales, playing number one for the former, rode hard and hit well. He played an excellent game and scored twice. Seifullah's team won by 5 goals to 2.

Prince Djemil Toussoun, on behalf of King Faud, presented the cups to the winning team.

The Prince of Wales was tremendously cheered on receiving a handsome gold cup.

After the presentation the Prince accompanied by Field-Marshal Allenby, Prince Djemil Toussoun, the Premier and other Ministers, took tea at the club-house, surrounded by an admiring throng. Altogether it was the very best afternoon that Gezira has ever experienced.

The British residents in Cairo consider themselves most fortunate in having the opportunity of seeing the popular Prince, and they magnificently welcomed him at their beautiful sporting club. Numerous Europeans enthusiastically participated in the welcome. — (From Sir Herbert Russell.)

On Saturday, the Prince of Wales concluded a very busy day by attending a military boxing tournament given in his honour at Kasrelnil Barracks. His Royal Highness was accompanied by Field-Marshal Allenby and high military dignitaries.

A solid phalanx of khaki met the eye as the entered the barrack square and the Prince's arrival was heralded by a great burst of cheering.

The Prince of Wales presented the prizes to the victors, after a short speech, in the course of which he said how pleased he was to visit the troops stationed in Egypt, and how gratified he was with the reception accorded him.

General Congreve led the final three cheers for the Prince, which were given with such enthusiasm that they must have carried far beyond the barrack square.

The Prince's energy astonished the people here, for after a hot and tiring journey from Suez the day before yesterday, he was early astir this morning, and was at Gezira by seven o'clock, trying his polo ponies.

After exchanging visits with the King, he visited the famous bazaars in Mousky.

CAIRO, June 11th.

To-day (Sunday), the Prince of Wales went riding in the early morning, and afterwards attended to private affairs.

The King gave a brilliant luncheon in his honour at Abdin Palace, at which a large number of distinguished personages were present, including Ministers. Decorations were worn.

King Faud decorated H.R.H. the Prince of Wales with the collar of the Order of Mohamedali, the highest Egyptian honour, which the Prince of Wales is the first to receive, and which is intended only for Crowned Heads.

His Royal Highness plays tennis at Gezira this afternoon, and dines quietly with Field-Marshal Allenby. He leaves at nine-thirty to-night for Port Said and boards the Renown immediately on his arrival. The Renown departs at seven forty-five on Monday morning.—(From Sir Herbert Russell).

TIRED OF FIRST LOVE

MAJOR'S WIFE WHO WENT OFF WITH MARQUIS.

Marquis Conyngham was cited as correspondent in the petition of Major Studley Neville Custance for a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Antoinette Winifred Custance.

There was no defence. Mr. Justice Hill granted a decree nisi, with costs and the custody of the child.

Mr. Willis said the evidence of Major Custance had been taken on affidavit, as he was with the Army in Cairo.

Married in August, 1916, in Somerset, Mr. and Mrs. Custance lived together in Wiltshire, Somerset, and Palestine.

When they returned from Palestine, early in 1921, they lived at Bratton, Somerset, and there they met the Marquis. In August last Major Custance received a letter in Cairo from his wife, written from the Hyde Park Hotel, saying:—

"I LOVE ANOTHER."

It hurts me frightfully to hurt you as I am going to do; but I love another man and have gone away with him.

That was the first intimation the husband had of his wife's change of feelings, and it came as a surprise to him. He was granted special leave of absence, and returned to England. He went to Bratton, and discovered that she had gone away with the Marquis.

She wrote to him that her decision was final, and declined to give up the Marquis. Major Custance was then ordered to rejoin his battery in Egypt.

Sidney Ernest Barron, solicitor's clerk, said he went to the Isle of Man to serve the papers on respondent and co-respondent. He saw them at the Hotel Sefton, Peel. They were in a bedroom together. The Marquis came to the door to take the papers, and witness could see Mrs. Custance inside the room dressing.
